

The 3rd Annual Canadian Children, Youth and Communities (CCYC) Health In | Equity Conference

October 20-21, 2023 | Digital Conference

Building sustainable solutions to address child health inequity through community partnerships

The Canadian Children, Youth and Communities (CCYC) In | Equity Conference is an interdisciplinary conference designed to bring together pediatric health and allied health care professionals to address health care inequities from birth to adolescence using a family-centred approach.

This conference explores health equity topics specific to marginalized communities in the Canadian health care system and offers approaches that can be implemented to address barriers in accessing healthcare for underserved, high-risk and economically disadvantaged children and youth.

Sponsor Benefits:

- Build partnerships with a national, multidisciplinary network of healthcare professionals, researchers and community members conducting groundbreaking and innovative work in health equity
- Support the advancement of health equity in marginalized communities in the Canadian Health System to build a better future for our children, youth and communities
- Together with the community, tackle health inequity experienced by vulnerable and marginalized populations from birth to adolescence
