Gynecologic Pathology: New entities and new approaches to old problems

November 1-2, 2019

Courtyard by Marriott Toronto Downtown

Dear Colleagues,

We are pleased to announce this year's Pathology Update will take place on November 1-2, 2019 at the Courtyard by Marriott Toronto Downtown and we welcome your participation.

This two-day symposium is designed to highlight recent advances in surgical pathology with corresponding clinical correlation and prognostic implications. We are thrilled to have Drs. Brooke Howitt and Blake Gilks join us as our keynote speakers for the 2019 symposium which will focus on "Gynecologic Pathology: New entities and new approaches to old problems."

The conference is designed as a full day program on November 1st and a half day program on the 2nd. The program includes large group learning activities and case discussions with several program breaks providing the opportunity to visit the corporate supporters and to socialize.

In 2018 we had a very successful symposium with more than 150 attendees. We look forward to building on the success of this meeting and expect an even greater number of attendees this year. We would like to invite you to be part of this meeting by considering participation in our supporter program (please see column on right). We would also be pleased to discuss any other additional support options with you.

For more information or to confirm your commitment of support, please contact Alison Lind, Associate Director, CPD, at a.lind@utoronto.ca 416.978.8499.

Sincerely,

The 2019 Pathology Update Planning Committee
